

Heather Nadler is one of 7 attorneys in the State of Georgia to be Certified as an Elder Law Attorney by the National Elder Law Foundation, as accredited by the American Bar Association. She has practiced law for 10 years and is Senior Associate Attorney with the Law Office of Ruthann P. Lacey, P.C. Her practice is concentrated in the areas of Special Needs Law, Elder Law and Estate Planning. Heather earned a B.S. in International Business with concentrations in Spanish and Management Information Systems from Auburn University and graduated with honors, Cum Laude. She received her J.D. from Tulane University School of Law where she was on the editorial board of the Tulane Journal of International and Comparative Law. While in law school she also clerked at the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia for the Honorable Justice Hugh P. Thompson. In 2009, Heather was selected by her peers and Atlanta Magazine as a "Rising Star" in the field of Elder Law. Articles authored by Heather on the topics of Elder Law and Special Needs Law have been published in the Georgia Bar Journal and Atlanta Lawyer Magazine.

She is a member of the Academy of Special Needs Planners and the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys. She is a member of the Georgia Bar Association and the Atlanta Bar Association. She is admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia and before the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia. She is currently on the Board of Directors and is Past Chair of the Elder Law Section of the Atlanta Bar Association. Heather also served as Secretary of the Georgia Chapter of the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys, was on their steering committee and was awarded an Outstanding Achievement Award by the Georgia Chapter. In addition, she serves on the Editorial Board of The Mortmain, the newsletter of the Estate Planning Section of the Atlanta Bar Association.